Michael C. Corby, AIA, LEED AP
Executive Vice President
Design Principal

Profile

Michael Corby, a cutting-edge conceptual designer, has a unique ability to capture the vision of the client and turn it into reality, easily melding creative design with practical application. Mike's award-winning projects have gained national, state and local AIA honors. One of Michigan's first LEED accredited architects, Mike has led the environmental design movement, redefining luxury to include abundant natural light, fresh air, gracious space and environmentally friendly materials.

As Design Principal, Mike works with designers from all disciplines to assure that the site and building design result in an efficient marriage of aesthetics with structural integrity and security.
